1). Contact and Affiliation

Name of PI:

Designation:

Affiliation:

Department:

Email:

Phone:

2). Statement of Study (Highlight why HPC access is required for your analysis)

(Additional sheet may be added as Annexure, if required)

3). Type of service request

Server/HPC Resource

Training / Internship / Workshop

Consultancy

4). Server access duration, if required

< 1 month <2 months < 3 months Others, please specify:

5). Details of the experiment

Name of the organism

Mammals: Human (), Mouse (), Rat (),

Plants:

Bacteria:

Fungus:

Virus:

Others, please specify:

Reference genome version, if required

please specify:

(for example: GRCh38 for human)

Type of data?

- Whole genome sequencing (WGS)
- Whole exome sequencing (WES)
- Genome Wide Association Studies (GWAS)
- RNA-sequencing (RNA-seq)
- noncoding RNA sequencing (smallRNA/circularRNA/lncRNA etc.)
- Single Cell RNA-seq
- Bisulfite-seq/ChIP-seq
- 16S/Metagenomics
- Methylation array
- Microarray
- Molecular docking & simulation
- Metabolomics
- Others, please specify:

No. of Samples:

Raw data size

<10 GB <100 GB <1 TB Others, please specify:

Output data size

<10 GB <100 GB <1 TB Others, please specify:

Tips

- Users may install software in their local environment or may request for software installation by sending an email to support@ibdc.rcb.res.in.
- Users are advised to use 'mv' command to remove their data by creating a 'trash' directory, instead of deleting it completely using 'rm' command. Data once deleted ('rm') cannot be retrieved. The 'trash' directory can be periodically cleaned.
- If there is no activity by the user for 30 mins after login, the user would logout automatically. Therefore, users are advised to submit jobs in the background.

I hereby agree to acknowledge 'Indian Biological Data Centre' while presenting the results of the analysis in any form (presentation, report, publications etc.).

Disclaimer

- IBDC does not monitor the 'user' data or installed software unless requested by sending an email to support@ibdc.rcb.res.in.
- The HPC access would be valid for one month unless specified by the user. After the permissible duration the user access would be locked.
